Capital Crimes is an eclectic collection of London-based crime stories, blending the familiar with the unexpected in a way that reflects the personality of the city. Alongside classics by Margery Allingham, Anthony Berkeley and Thomas Burke are excellent and unusual stories by authors who are far less well known. The stories give a flavour of ... British Library Crime Classics – which is your favourite ... For me, Antidote to Venom has been the first among equals – an inverted crime story with an ambitious depiction of a man's fall from, and return to, grace. Crofts cleverly hands us an inverted mystery in which the main character doesn't quite know how the murder is committed, which is a fairly impressive feat of sleight-of-hand. Bear Alley: British Library Crime Classics Series The British Library have been publishing a collection of classic crime novels of late which have proven surprisingly popular. Paul Gallagher highlighted the series in an article in The Independent back in December 2014, describing J. Jefferson Farjeon's Mystery In White: A Christmas Crime Story as a "Festive sleeper hit" that was selling in ...
