In a typical communication between cells, the signaling cell produces a particular type of signal molecule that is detected by the target cell. The target cell possesses receptor proteins that recognize and respond ... (PDF) OVERVIEW OF CELL SIGNALING AND CELL COMMUNICATION PDF | Cell Signaling is an important facet of biological life. It allows cells to perceive and respond to the extracellular environment allowing development, growth, immunity, etc. Additionally ... A Summary of Cell Communication Receptors are protein molecules inside the target cell or on its surface that receive a chemical signal. Chemical signals are released by signaling cells in the form of small, usually volatile or soluble molecules called ligands.
