This book is intended to give IHCD qualified Paramedics, along with Technicians and Emergency Care Assistants (ECAs) a basic understanding of how to achieve Continual Professional Development (CPD) goals by the use of reflection. What is the difference between a Paramedic and a Technician? The media is sometimes confused by the difference between an emergency medical technician and a paramedic. Unfortunately, with so many people getting their information from the news media the confusion has spread. At least the days of referring to these trained professionals as ambulance drivers are mostly behind us. Unlike other emergency services, our equipment (the ambulance) precedes our ...
